Art direction, design and production of entire summer advertising campaign. Work included art direction of campaign photography shoot, design for large format outdoor advertising, London bus and underground advertising, press advertisements and complete college course guide for 16-18 year olds.

Graphic Designer

The Country Fire Authority is a government volunteer service agency that provides fire fighting and emergency services to all of the country areas and regional townships within the state of Victoria. I was working from concept to print following style guide to design brochures, training manuals and internal marketing material. Other responsibilities included supervision other designers, dealing directly with paper suppliers and printers.
